

BILINGUAL CAREER NAVIGATOR

Are you ready for a career that allows you to make long-lasting impacts on the lives of others, while helping create a thriving local economy? Then join the team at the Full Employment Council, Missouri's top-performing career center. At the FEC, we focus on providing real solutions to underserved people in need of change, by creating ladders of economic opportunity through debt-free job training, career opportunities, supportive services and more. We work closely with local businesses, staying on top of employment trends, to help create the workforce Kansas City needs. At the FEC, we are here for the outcome, and we love what we do because we know it makes a difference.

We are currently seeking a bilingual career navigator, fluent in both Spanish and English. Career navigators provide guidance to those facing uncertainty about job-related decisions, including people who are considering a career change. Our career navigators are passionate about helping others, great at creating relationships and building rapport with people, and are good about finding solutions to the barriers people face when it comes to training and employment. They're creative. They're compassionate. They're communicative. They're connectors.

Our bilingual career navigator will also create outreach opportunities within the Hispanic community, and help Spanish-speakers understand and access our services.
